

Redux Launches Search for Next Executive Director A Message from Francis Ervin, President of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors of Redux Contemporary Art Center announced today that the search for its next Executive Director has officially begun. The Announcement of Executive Director Search contains the job responsibilities, desired qualifications for the position, and instructions for applying. Members, supporters, community partners, and friends of Redux are encouraged to share this document with any persons they know who might be interested in the position.

To apply for the position, applicants must send a cover letter and resume to reduxedsearch@gmail.com. Applicants must include their salary requirements in the cover letter. Review of applications will begin on July 26th, and the position will remain open until filled. Faxed, mailed, or hand-delivered letters and resumes will not be accepted.

Beth Kerrigan, Redux's Interim Executive Director appointed in early June, remains in charge of day-to-day operations and will continue to do so until a new Executive Director is chosen. Redux has enlisted the services of South Carolina-based Governance4Good to facilitate the executive search. Those who have questions or would like additional information about the search are encouraged to contact Mark Cruise of Governance4Good at 803-609-2059.

This is an exciting time for Redux! Thank you for your continued support and encouragement during our transition to a new facility and new leadership.

For the arts,

Francis M. Ervin, II, President
Redux Board of Directors
