Redux is a creative home and launchpad for Charleston's contemporary artists. As one of the region's few independent non-profit contemporary art centers, we support artists at every stage of their careers through exhibitions, affordable studio space, education, professional development, and opportunities to teach, collaborate, and connect with the broader community.

Through after-school programs, adult classes, field trips, workshops, summer camps, internships, scholarships, and a year-round exhibition program, Redux creates opportunities for people of all ages and experience levels to engage with contemporary art. By investing in artists and making space for creativity, Redux is integral in maintaining Charleston's vibrant and ever-growing arts community.
